

Top Students in the December 2009 Accredited Accounting Technician (AAT) Examination

Paper 4 - Business Economics and Financial Mathematics

Ng To Ki

Job title: Assistant Clerical Officer

Company: Marine Department, Hong Kong SAR

Mr. Ng graduated with a Professional Diploma in Business Studies (Personnel Management) from the Hong Kong Polytechnic. He studied for the examination by himself.

Thoughts from Mr. Ng:

I graduated from the Hong Kong Polytechnic majoring in Personnel Management. From 1990 to 1999, I worked in the human resources management field. After that, I started to work for the HKSAR government in various non-civil service contracts. I am currently working as an Assistant Clerical Officer at the Marine Department, on probationary terms.

In April 2009, one of my best friends advised me to take a new career path by sitting the professional examinations offered by the HKIAAT. I studied on my own and took three papers in December 2009. I obtained two passes with distinction and one with credit.

I think being focused and efficient in my studies are the two key factors that have contributed to my good results. Candidates should know the syllabus well and familiarize themselves with the major topics which appear in the pilot papers as well as the past examination papers. They should also work on the comments given in the examiner's reports.
