In order to excel in study, the most important thing is to enjoy it. This is the only way we can raise our passion and motivation to work hard. By sitting the AAT Foundation Examination, I could try more BAFS questions and gain public examination experience. I am thankful for the support from HKIAAT, as their examination technique seminars have beefed up my question answering skills.

BAFS is a practical subject focusing on application rather than reciting facts. Therefore, doing more exercises, especially the application questions, is the key to getting a better grip of this subject. Based on the syllabus and format of the HKDSE Examination, the AAT Foundation Examination can be regarded as the ideal mock examination before the public one, thus boosting my confidence in the HKDSE Examination.

The experience of sitting the AAT Foundation Examination gave me more confidence in the HKDSE Examination. Furthermore, by taking such a great mock examination, I have come to understand more about the application aspects of accounting. The exercise strengthened my desire in becoming an accountant in the future.
