

Top Students of June 2009 Professional Bridging Examination (PBE)

Paper II - PBE Management Accounting and Finance

Chong Chi Hoi

Mr. Chong graduated with a Higher Diploma in Accountancy and Information Systems from the Hong Kong Institute of Vocational Education (Sha Tin). He studied for the examination by himself.

Thoughts from Mr. Chong:

I am very pleased to be awarded as the Top Student for this paper. I have completed all the papers of PBE. I hope to continue my further studies and enrol in the Qualification Programme for the next session to pursue my target of becoming a qualified accountant.

I am glad to share my experience in examination preparation. Practising past exam papers is essential but it should not merely be a matter of memorizing the formulae and suggested answers. You should understand the rationale behind the questions. During the examination, you should study the questions carefully and think of the requirements of the examiners. Studying examiners' reports prior to the examination could provide you with more insights about the questions' requirements. Then, you should organize and elaborate your answers before writing. Most of all, good preparation is the most important factor.
